Geometry

Original CC0 evaluation fixture - generated locally

For a right triangle with legs a and b and hypotenuse c, a^2+b^2=c^2.

A circle of radius r has area pi*r^2, and a triangle has area base*height/2.

Applied word problems

Original CC0 evaluation fixture - generated locally

Distance equals rate times time. When two workers act together, their work rates add.

A quantity increased by p percent is multiplied by 1+p/100; successive percentage change s multiply their factors.